

JOB OPPORTUNITY: PROJECT MANAGER

XEDEV is a young and dynamic CRO/CDMO specialized in formulation and process development for oral solid dosage forms through drying, agglomeration, coating and tableting processes. With the up rise of Spray Drying technology in many industries, and the amount of projects realized by the XEDEV team in this field, XEDEV has become a center of excellence in Spray Drying.

XEDEV serves Pharma, Bio, Food, Feed and Chemical industry and makes the difference by combining engineering, process, formulation and analytical know-how to support customer's projects.

More information: www.xedev.com

For our new facility in Zele, we are looking for project manager to strengthen our team.

JOB DESCRIPTION

As a project manager,

- You manage the projects from start to finish, including managing timelines, resources and budgets, while managing and balancing customer expectations (both timing and quality).
- You are the single point of contact for the customer and interacts as key person with all partners evolved in the project.
- Together with your project team, you are writing, performing and evaluating the project both internally and externally.

PROFILE

- A Master with at least 5 years of experience or PhD degree (in pharmaceutical technology, bio-engineering, biotechnology, biochemistry) or relevant experience in the field of formulation and process development
- You are hands-on and have a strong interest in process development, experience in spray-drying is an asset
- Strong knowledge in formulation development
- Strong communication skills, both written and spoken in Dutch and English
- Working both independently and as well as a member of a team
- Critical thinker, flexible and strong problem solving skills
- No limitations in travelling abroad

OFFER

XEDEV offers a contract with a competitive salary, depending on experience, with an extra legal package in a young and dynamic environment with space for creativity.

APPLY

When you have interest in above vacant function, we ask you to send us your CV to alien@xede.com. You will be invited for an interview when your profile matches.